Full Sail University's High School Partnership Program

was developed to support distinguished high school programs focusing on career and technical pathways within the entertainment, media, arts and technology industries.

Full Sail, a proud supporter of creativity, is dedicated to the encouragement and development of future generations of entertainment and media professionals.

Full Sail University's High School Partnership educators emphasize a creative community through project-based learning, an innovative use of technology, and focused curricula to help students pursue their dreams.

REQUIREMENTS

Focused Curriculum Track

Curricula models are structured as a "building block" approach to education, starting with foundational courses and ending with advanced project-based courses.

Innovative Use of Industry Tools

Students have the opportunity to use industry equipment and software throughout the program track.

Demonstration of Project-Based Learning

Program tracks are designed around capstone, thesis, or portfolio projects, which guide students toward real-world results.

Educators Who Encourage Creative Communities

Teachers actively engage in collaboration among peers and promote creativity while supporting communities centered around the entertainment, media, arts, and technology industries.
